

What can you do with an English Major?

You may be surprised that the list of possibilities is long and broad. As an English major you have skills that employers seek: the ability to think, to analyze, to do research, to write clearly, and to formulate coherent arguments.

See the lists below to start thinking about where your English major can take you.

Graduate programs in:

Law	Public Relations
Literature	Business
Medicine or Dentistry	Library Science
Seminary/Divinity School
Education	--or just about any other field you wish to
Journalism	pursue.
Marketing

Our majors have attended/been accepted to graduate programs at an array of schools. Here are a few:

Brooklyn Law School	Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary
Carleton University (Ottawa)	Seton Hall University
Columbia University	SUNY Albany Law School
Fordham University	University of California, Berkeley
Georgetown University	University of Chicago
Hofstra University Law School	University of Colorado, Boulder
Loyola University (Chicago)	University of Massachusetts
New York University	University of Michigan
Pace University	Wayne State University
	Yale Divinity School

Career opportunities--English B.A.:

Account Executive	Associate/Public Accountant
Account Supervisor	Attorney
Administration	Author
Advertising	Bank Officer
Agent's Asst.	Book Publisher
Archivist	Bookstore manager
Assistant Editor/Production Editor	Broadcast Advertising Manager
Associate Director of Publicity	Broadcasting
Associate Editor	Business

Buyer	Librarian
Career Counselor	Lobbyist
Child Care Specialist/Teacher	Manuscript Reader
Columnist	Marketing
Commodities Trader	News Reporter
Computer Manager/Consultant	Newspaper/Magazine Editor
Copywriter	Paralegal
Corporate Communications	Press secretary
Counseling	Project Manager/City Planner
Court Reporter	Proofreader
Creative Writing	Public relations
Critic	Publishing
Editing	Real Estate Broker
Educational Researcher	Research Analyst
Electronic Publishing Specialist	Researcher: Opinion polls, Fact checker
Financial Aid Counselor	Store Manager/Regional Manager
Foreign Service	Teaching (all levels)
Fundraiser	Telecommunications Systems
Government Service	Consultant
Insurance Agent	Television Producer/Performer
Interviewer	Writer: Technical, Speech, Freelance
Journalist	